Animellis Island Book One: The Traitor Gator is told from the point of view of the common animals and birds. The first part of the story is set in a specific time period in 1733 when Spain was still a powerful kingdom and had colonies in other continents. The second part of the story happens 250 later when the animal society, its laws and rules for immigrants are already established. The main conflict starts when an alligator called Alli Gator arrived. She had sharp, shiny teeth . . . and a plan. The other islanders are concerned having a predator living among them. What will happen to islanders What is Alli going to do The nave islanders believed that everything will continue as peacefully as before not noticing or reacting to any subtle changes in their environment. Alli Gator continued to gather information for her plan to reinforce her future status. Herbert Hippopotamus and his family will have to face the new challenges when Alli reveals her true colors. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
